I don't remember his face. We never met in carpark. We hardly met face to face. He never gave me presents. He never took me to concert. He never wrote love letters to. He never said love to me.

II. Ask Chat GPT

具備資訊科技與各類媒體所提供的英文素材，進行資訊整合能力，與發省思和批判社會議題的能力。

Prompt：請問第一課文中的love coach給出哪方面的建議？

輸入問題：Is caring about Valentine's Day really superficial?

Chat GPT顯示回答：Not necessarily — it depends on your attitude. If it's just for showing off or comparing, then maybe. But if it's about expressing love and making memories, then it's meaningful. What really matters is showing love every day, not just on one special day.

Prompt：如何將王心凌的歌「一律建議分手吧」用在您愛建議上？

輸入問題：What do you think of the statment "It is always recommended to break up"?

Chat GPT顯示回答："Just break up" isn't always the right advice. Every relationship is different. If there's still room for communication and growth, breaking up might not be the best choice. But if the relationship causes pain, leaving might be better.

III. 請回信一關於給您男友的文章

Taking you to concerts and giving you gifts are not necessary, but never saying "I love you" or showing affection is not okey. You both should have a serious talk about how you interact with each other. For example, you can agree on how often you should contact each other or spend time together, like going for walk or having a meal. You should also express love to each other. If he can't even do something as simple as showing affection, you might want to think about whether you should continue this relationship. I wish you all the best in life.
